Mr. Cackette:

Please leave the remanufactured converter business alone!

While CARB looks to eliminate the remanufactured catalytic converter business, bear in mind the burden to the economically disadvantaged. Many converters that are not available from the aftermarket are only available from the auto manufacturers. Our business often sees remanufactured units retail for $300-$400; the same new units from the auto manufacturer sell for $800-$1200.

Why don't you go pick on the agricultural dust issues? Oh, that's right, they're too organized.

Sincerely yours,

Dale L. Warmuth
