The first in an ongoing series of Economic Analysis technical stakeholder meetings will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. on January 28, 2008 in the Coastal Hearing Room at the CalEPA building in Sacramento. This series of meetings are being held in order to provide interested stakeholders the opportunity to provide input concerning the economic analysis being undertaken to support development of the AB 32 Scoping Plan.

AB 32, the Global Warming Solutions Act of 2006, requires the California Air Resources Board (CARB) to prepare a Scoping Plan for achieving the maximum technologically feasible and cost-effective reductions in greenhouse gas emissions by 2020. Development of the Scoping Plan will include an analysis of potential emission reductions across all sectors.

The January 28th meeting will provide a broad overview of the economic modeling efforts being undertaken at the Air Resources Board and the Public Utilities Commission to support the Scoping Plan, allow opportunity for questions and comments on these efforts, and lay out the schedule for future meetings on this topic. Workshop materials and an agenda will be posted prior to the meeting at ARB's Climate Change website (<http://www.arb.ca.gov/cc/cc.htm>) and made available in hard copy at the meeting. At this website, you may also join our electronic mailing list to receive further notices of ARB activities and public meetings related to the implementation of AB 32.

Future economic analysis technical stakeholder meetings have been tentatively scheduled for February 29 and March 17. More information about those meetings will be made available at the website above as the details are finalized.
