I, Brad Erickson, owner of Erickson Tech Service, exclusive representative of Protech S.p.A. in the United States attest to the authenticity of the attached letter from Protech S.p.A. signed by Mr. Romeo Romei.

Furthermore, I will attest to the fact that in my experience with other states and jurisdictions in the United States that the Protech Opax 2000 opacity meter has been found to be fully compliant with the SAE J1667 opacity testing standard.

Therefore, to the best of my knowledge the Opax 2000 meets all specifications as required by the State of California for opacity meters to be used in their diesel emission testing program.
