What are you really interested in regarding these outlying areas that you refer to as protecting their environment? It has come to my attention that you are only interested in EV and nothing else matters. EV is NOT the answer YET AND is causing more damage to this world environment than most polluting sources. So what are you doing for the current environmental crises in the Central Valley and all over the state?

Comment:

Just read an article on sacbee where the LAO criticized your lack of "a clear strategy" and "specificity" regarding our air quality targets.

Just wanted to throw out one option, which I've emailed to our senators and congressmen as well, we should be the first state to proactively push for and legislate remote work. Less cars on the street should help with our air quality.

I know Gavin Newsome has already pushed for the public sector to do more work from home but there should be rules, policies, and incentives for private companies as well.

The more folks I can get on board with this the better.

Thank you,
Meng Thao
