Subject: BEV's for those without taxable income

Comment:

BEV's for those without taxable income, I get SSI, 58, and physically disabled, a Battery Electric Vehicle, like a Tesla model 3 or a Hyundai Kona EV or a Nissan Leaf E+ or a Chevy Bolt EV would be what I'd need since to see My relatives from where I live at I have to drive 81 miles and 100 miles one way to see them and the same to get back, since over those distances buses are not available or practical with OA and joint problems and to go shopping or to the Doctor a bus is also not practical especially with a 4 bag limit that is exact change only.

SSI is Supplemental Security Income, currently I get $931.72 a month, I own and drive a 1999 Ford Escort zx2 Sport Hot Coupe that gets about 37mpg and always passes smog, $7,500.00 if it's a tax credit refundable or not is useless to someone like Me since SSI is according the SSA and IRS not eligible to file a tax return for any reason, I'd also need the 19.2KW(or as close as possible to this) Level2 charging infrastructure which I currently lack here in My 1987 mobile home that I own w/no mortgage.
