Comment:

I am pleased that sustainable agriculture practices are included in the draft cap-and-trade investment plan. Investments in the state's existing land resources programs will provide climate and other environmental and health benefits. Additional investments in research, technical assistance and incentives will encourage farming practices that reduce greenhouse gas emissions, sequester carbon and help growers adapt to climate change. I also support investments in farmland protection, particularly if prioritizing farmland that supports smart growth.

Thank you for your time and consideration!
