My name is Alexa Morán-Solis. I am a student in high school (15). I live in the City of Lynwood. I have grown up moving a lot and with that I've seen so many trucks, I've seen those trucks spitting out the black smoke and it was the worst smell. With the things I have experienced is that my big sister has asthma and I believe these trucks and polluters have made it worse. I remember one night she was literally gasping for air that I had to rush to get her inhaler. I was maybe 10? Something I saw while going back home from visiting my sister (at her school) was a truck crash, there was so much smoke and so much traffic. So please pass this and revisit this and really think about this for a better future.
