Dear Clerk of the Board,

Rodrigo Saldivar appreciates the opportunity to provide public comment on the Proposed Advanced Clean Fleets Regulation (ACF).

I think that California should fix the blackout power outages first and then move toward electric vehicles. If California currently does not have enough electric power for the population, how does the state plans to power the zero-emissions vehicles?

We urge you to amend the ACF regulation for more flexibility so that the regulation catches up with technology and not technology catching up with the regulation.

Thank you,

Rodrigo Saldivar

Sincerely,

Rodrigo Saldivar
