Re: Heavy-Duty Engine and Vehicle Omnibus Regulation and Associated Amendments

Dear Chair Nichols,

Daimler Trucks North America (DTNA) is a manufacturer of heavy-duty vehicles and engines. Because DTNA builds both vehicles and engines potentially affected by ARB's proposed regulations and test procedures, DTNA has a strong interest in the proposed standards and regulations. DTNA is a member of the Truck and Engine Manufacturers Association (EMA), and Daimler supports and incorporates the comments provided by the association as its own.

Sincerely,

Sean Waters
