My name is Gabriel Guerrero. I am a resident of South East LA and a member of CBE.

I have lived here for more than 30 years.

South East LA is home to some of the biggest contamination disasters in California. We are dealing with Exide, the highest contamination disaster in the history of California. We are also home to one of the biggest arteries of the goods movement, the 710 fwy bringing in trucks that contaminated our air. These are all examples of environmental racism. With all of this, it is embarrassing that we are not included on this list. We are not the only community that is missing from the list. This is why we demand that the list be expanded, not eliminated, but added to the list. Our communities should not be pitted against each other scrambling for limited resources provided from the state.
