

Sean Whelan

Attwood Testimony for the CARB Board Hearing
Presented by Sean Whelan

July 24, 2008

- Hello my name is Sean Whelan and I work for Attwood Marine.
- Attwood is one of the major marine parts and accessories suppliers in the industry. Our product lines include fuel systems, hardware, rod holders, gas springs, anchors, bilge pumps, navigation lights, blowers, seats, seat pedestal mounts, and canvas covers.
- Attwood has been supplying high quality marine components to the industry for more than 100 years.
- Attwood, and our manufacturing partner, have developed, tested, and validated carbon canisters for the marine industry.
- Attwood is fully committed to being ready for this low volume, early introduction, of carbon canister systems for the high performance boat market. Attwood will work with the boat builders to help them with installations, including sizing, mounting, hose routing and overall packaging. In fact, I just visited six major boat builders this week and did some initial fit-ups of the systems with great success.
- Attwood looks at this as an opportunity to further develop installation guidelines and procedures such that the future rollout of nation wide carbon canister systems on all boats can be accomplished with greater confidence, reliability, and emissions control performance.
- Thank you for your time and the opportunity to present our plans.

Sean Whelan
Attwood Marine
1016 N Monroe Street
Lowell, MI 49331
616-897-2275