

California is experiencing up to 24,000 premature deaths, 350,000 asthma attacks, thousands of hospitalizations and emergency room visits, and millions of missed school days from air pollution. Global warming will increase temperatures and emissions and lead to heat waves and weather conditions that will exacerbate these very serious health concerns.

I urge CARB to develop a plan that will maximize the air quality and public health co-benefits of all regulations and strategies for greenhouse gas reductions, provide local benefits, especially to environmental justice communities, set a higher bar for reduction of vehicle miles travelled and establish strong regional greenhouse gas reduction targets.
