

Amy Mesrobian

Analyst

California Public Utilities Commission

Amy Mesrobian is an analyst at the California Public Utilities Commission and recently began working on transportation electrification policies. For the previous two years at the CPUC, Amy helped develop and implement greenhouse gas and Cap-and-Trade related policies for the state's electric and natural gas utilities. Prior to working at the CPUC, Amy implemented a utility energy efficiency program, worked on energy efficiency in public housing, and worked as a consultant supporting US EPA's Brownfields Program. Amy holds a Master of Public Policy degree from Duke University and a Bachelor's degree from University of Virginia.