Section 1: Methodology

The Institute for Social Research (ISR) at California State University, Sacramento conducted a randomized computer assisted telephone interview (CATI) with owners and users of registered on-road motorcycles throughout California. The data was collected in an effort to provide the California Air Resources Board (ARB) with information about the usage and storage of registered on-road motorcycles in California.

Sample Selection

The Air Resources Board (ARB) in collaboration with the California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) obtained the most recent 2010 registration information for California's on-road motorcycle population. It should be noted that 15 percent of the 2010 DMV records were still pending registration status, and therefore were not included in the sampling frame. Because the success of a telephone survey depends on having the most up to date contact and registration information available, it was agreed that contacting households with the data available (although only 85% complete) would yield more accuracy, better survey results, and higher data quality than using more outdated 2009 DMV registration records.

The ISR received an initial database of 588,541 DMV records of owners of on-road motorcycles. To ensure the sample would be representative of the population, a multi-step process was undertaken to identify and remove records in the DMV population that did not meet ARB's definition of registered, on-road motorcycles. The sorting process identified 117,790 records in the population data that required removal, resulting in a final sampling frame of 470,751 records of owners of registered, on-road motorcycles in California that were eligible to take the survey. DMV records were removed from the sample if they were coded in the data dictionaries provided by ARB as:

- Not currently registered (-1,837 cases)
- Registered out of state (-3, 414 cases)
- Registered to commercial, public, government, living trusts or other non-residential entities (-22,436)
- Cars, trucks, marine crafts, trailers, or off-road motorcycles (-67,476 cases)
- Duplicate records for a registered owner (-22,627 cases)

The DMV registration records contained the name and addresses of registered owners, but did not contain a telephone number. ISR worked with Scientific Telephone Samples (STS) to match the names and addresses in the DMV records to an STS database in an effort to obtain current and accurate telephone numbers. A random sample of 55,000 records was sent to STS for matching. Twenty-nine percent of those records, or 15,768 phone numbers, were matched and appended to the DMV records. After removing duplicate phone numbers, the final sample for the study was 15,506 records. The survey was conducted using WinCATI software from Sawtooth Technologies. The use of CATI helps increase the accuracy of responses collected and supports efforts to maximize the response rate. This is achieved through CATI's ability to automate the flow of the questionnaire while minimizing potential data entry errors by restricting accepted answers. Initial call attempts are random, and the non-response rate is reduced by systematically working through the sample to reach potential respondents. Subsequent call attempts are distributed to ensure that numbers are not called during the same time of day, or on the same day of the week until a final disposition can be reached.

Interview Summary

Complete Interviews

The analysis outlined in this report is based on telephone interviews conducted from June 11th, 2011 to June 29th, 2011. The objective of the study was to collect 1,200 completed interviews with the registered owner or primary user of the on-road motorcycle specified in the DMV sampling frame. ISR exceeded the goal and completed a total of 1,228 completed interviews with registered owners of on-road motorcycles in California—a completed response rate of over 76 percent (Table 1). Of the 1,228 individuals who participated in the study, most (92%) identified themselves as the registered owner of the motorcycle. The remaining eight percent of completed surveys were conducted with another person in the household who was most familiar and used the motorcycle. The distribution of the survey respondents by county can be found in Table 5. Table 5 displays comparisons between the sampling frame (N=470, 751), the sample (N=15, 506), and the survey responses (N=1,228). Section 2 of this report describes the responses to the survey questions.

Incomplete Interviews

There were 274 (17%) registered owners who initially agreed to take the survey, but failed to complete the interview questionnaire for various reasons (Table 1). These data are defined in this report as “incomplete interviews.” Data from incomplete interviews have been omitted from the analysis because of concerns regarding data quality and completion, however, the data is accessible in the Excel file provided to ARB.

Second Motorcycle Data

In addition to the 1,228 completed interviews, data was also collected on respondents who agreed to discuss a second motorcycle they owned and operated. These data are a combination of individuals who completed the first interview about the motorcycle specified in the DMV sampling frame as well as individuals who no longer owned the motorcycle being asked about, and instead completed the interview about a different motorcycle now in their possession, but not specified in the DMV sampling frame. However, it should be noted that the data collected on second motorcycles are not reflective of the DMV sampling frame, and therefore is not necessarily generalizable the larger population of registered, on-road motorcycles found in the DMV sampling frame.

Section 2: Key Findings

- Of the qualified owners contacted, 76.2 percent (1,228) completed the interview. Less than seven percent (6.8%) of all respondents who qualified for the survey refused to be interviewed. (Table 1)
- The majority of respondents (60.1%) who completed interviews were between 45 and 64 years of age. Less than five percent (3.3%) of all respondents were under 24 years of age. (Table 2)
- Approximately four of every five respondents (83.0%) who agreed to be surveyed were male. (Table 3)
- Nearly all of the respondents (99.7%) reported using gasoline for their motorcycle as opposed to diesel (0.2%). No electric motorcycles were reported to be owned or used. (Table 6)
- More than three-quarters (78.5%) of respondents reported starting the motorcycle between one and five times on a typical day of use. (Table 8)
- Over one-half (56.5%) of all respondents reported riding the motorcycle 50 miles or less on a typical day of use. (Table 9)
- Slightly more than half of respondents (55.6%) reported using the motorcycle for recreation only, while slightly less than ten percent (9.9%) of respondents discussed using the motorcycle primarily for commuting. Over one-third (33.8%) of all respondents reported using the motorcycle for both recreation and commuting. (Table 10)
- Over 90 percent (93.4%) of all respondents reported using the motorcycle during summer, followed by spring at more than 80 percent (83.2%). Although it was less common, more than half (54.3%) of all respondents reported using the motorcycle in the winter, and nearly 70 percent (68.0%) reported using their motorcycle in fall. (Table 13)
- Less than one percent (.9%) of respondents reported using the motorcycle primarily out-of-state. (Table 15)
- The average fuel tank size reported for motorcycles was 4.34 gallons. Interestingly, 'Don't Know' was a relatively high response for this question (11.7%). (Table 17)
- Approximately nine out of every ten respondents (90.1%) reported storing the motorcycle inside. (Table 19)
- More than one-half (56.2%) of all respondents reporting that the motorcycle was stored in a garage also reported that the garage where the motorcycle was stored had insulation. (Table 21)
- Over three-quarters (77.2%) of respondents reported that the motorcycle had not been modified from the original design. (Table 23)
- Slightly more than 70 percent (71.8%) of respondents who reported that the motorcycle had been modified also reported that the carbon canister had not been removed. (Table 26)

^b Some respondents chose '1' as the number of times they start the motorcycle on a typical day of use (N=74). These responses should be interpreted with caution because one start does not allow for any engine stoppage before the motorcycle is returned to a place of storage.

^c There is reason to believe some of the responses were intended for the whole year as opposed to one typical day of use. This concern was raised due to the large number of starts some respondents reported on a typical day of use. The confusion may have arisen from the previous question, which asked for the number of days the respondent used the motorcycle in the past 12 months.

^d Due to rounding percentages may not sum to 100%.
