Dear Mr. Blumenfeld:

The Air Resources Board (ARB) is pleased to submit to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) the Feather River Air Quality Management District (District) Reasonably Available Control Technology (RACT) Analysis as a revision to the California State Implementation Plan (SIP). The District is designated nonattainment for the 2008 75 parts per billion 8-hour ozone standard, with a classification of severe-15.

For areas classified as severe-15, RACT evaluations and analyses are required for specific stationary sources for which U.S. EPA has published Control Technique Guidelines (CTG) and for major non-CTG stationary sources. The District reviewed its existing rules for these sources to determine if its rules continue to meet RACT.

This SIP submittal consists of the following enclosures:

- I. ARB Executive Order S-14-011 adopting the Feather River Air Quality Management District Reasonably Available Control Technology Analysis as a revision to the California SIP;
- II. The Feather River Air Quality Management District Reasonably Available Control Technology Analysis; and
- III. Two (2) CDs, each containing electronic copies of the District's adopted RACT Analysis and supplemental documentation. The electronic copies are exact duplicates of the paper materials provided.

The enclosed submittal includes the complete package received by ARB from the District. In addition to the RACT Analysis, the submittal includes evidence of public notice, certification of public hearing, and evidence of adoption. ARB staff reviewed the

The energy challenge facing California is real. Every Californian needs to take immediate action to reduce energy consumption. For a list of simple ways you can reduce demand and cut your energy costs, see our website: <http://www.arb.ca.gov>.
